

Bay Area Edition

Summer 2011

Dandelion

FREE
TAKE ONE!

The Cord Blood Cure?
One Family's Miraculous Story

Discovering Generational Special Needs

College +
Special Needs
Students

Hold on Tight!

Special Needs
Summer Fun

YOUR SPECIAL NEEDS MAGAZINE!

Summer Lovin'

5 items that stole our hearts

by Melanie Heimborg

Just Ducky

Kiddos won't have a tough time reaching the faucet with this quack-tastic piece of plastic. The Aqueduck Faucet Extender fits on conventional bathroom sinks, bringing the water to the child, so they can wash their own hands.

Babyco in Los Gatos, Rockridge Kids in Oakland and PeachyCo.com

Doodle Me This

The uDraw Game Tablet for Wii encourages motor skills, arm strength, color recognition and creativity, but they'll just have a blast seeing their masterpieces—freestyle or coloring book-style—on the TV. Bonus: upload your artwork to the computer, or print it out and mail it straight to Grandma.

Best Buy and WorldOfuDraw.com

Scootin' in Style

High-density foam scooters by Fun and Function make this beloved summer pastime super accessible: scooter boards, tummy scooters, saddle scooters and tactile scooters suit a variety of special needs.

FunAndFunction.com

Face Value

Packed with superfoods and antioxidant-rich nutrients, like turmeric and vitamin C (and nothing you don't want near your face, like parabens and phthalates), the Daylight Savings SPF 25 Moisturizer will protect and beautify skin through summer. In fact, the Super by Dr. Nicholas Perricone skincare line is one nourishing feast we're happy to feed our hungry skin.

Super in Berkeley and GetSuper.com

Tat the Kids

Make like a Boy Scout, and always be prepared. Prior to a summer adventure or outing, tat the kids with a Safety Tat temporary tattoo that includes an emergency contact number, allergy alerts or special needs information. Quick tip: baby oil removes temporary tattoos in a hurry.

SafetyTat.com